2019 Programmes

2019 was a year of impact. Across Europe, we organised events, brought together journalists, and tried to start important conversations.

No News Is Bad News	Dutch Ministry of Foreign Affairs	No News is Bad News is a five-year programme within our Strategic Partnership with Free Press Unlimited, supported by the Dutch Ministry of Foreign Affairs. Over the course of five years, we worked with them to professionalise and strengthen journalists and media organisations in 17 countries, so that they can serve as drivers and catalysts for change.
DACHS	European Commission	DACHS focuses on the automation of Hate Speech recognition in order to facilitate its analysis in supporting countermeasures at scale. To do that, we map and model hate speech against journalists, as unofficial moderators or direct targets, across social platforms in order to develop deep learning-based hate speech detection models and an open-source hate speech database.
Media Landscapes	Dutch Ministry of Foreign Affairs	Our website Media Landscapes maps the entire journalism ecosystem of twenty countries. Put together by media experts, it features detailed insights into the historical evolution and the current situation of every country's media scene and puts these into vital socio-political contexts of regulation, legislation and press freedom.
Engaged Journalism Accelerator	News Integrity Initiative, Civil	The Engaged Journalism Accelerator is a programme that delivered grant funding, coaching, mentoring, resources and events to support engaged journalism in European news organisations.

Journalism Funders Forum	Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation	The Journalism Funders Forum is an open community of European foundations and journalists working together to ensure more effective and impactful funding of journalism in Europe.
News Impact Academy	Google News Initiative	Our academy provides media professionals with an opportunity to become innovation leaders within their news organisations. During our two-day training in different European cities, we develop leadership skills and provide the tools needed to scale ideas. We encourage collaboration within the community to overcome the challenges that the news industry is facing.
Google News initiative Fellowships	Google News Initiative	The Google News Initiative Fellowship enables students of journalism and technology to spend their summer working at relevant organizations across the world. They gain valuable experience and contacts while learning from industry experts.
European Development Reporting grants	Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation	The European Development Journalism Grants programme enables media organisations with audiences in France, Germany, the Netherlands, Sweden and the United Kingdom to go beyond their usual reporting approaches and set a new and distinctive agenda for development coverage.
Jacobs Fellowships	Jacobs Foundation	The European Journalism Centre and the Jacobs Foundation, which globally promotes child and youth development, have jointly established a new journalism fellowship programme.
News Impact Summits	Google News Initiative	Each Summit is an online event on how to innovate and best use technology to improve your coverage and newsroom.
datajournalism.com	Google News Initiative	Learn Data journalism through the power of community. Join the other 9,000 members to participate in our community, to exchange ideas and stay up-to-date with the latest on data journalism.
Data Journalism Handbook	Google News Initiative	The Data Journalism Handbooks explore new and innovative ways in which data is analysed, created and used in the context of journalism. And beyond that: it also reflects on the social, cultural, political and economic circumstances in which data journalism is embedded.
